What the Course will do

1. It will provide participants with the opportunity to broaden and enrich their current methods of analysis
2. It will provide an opportunity to understand conflict sensitivity more deeply.
3. It will enhance participants Capacity to learn continuously from their work, and to effectively monitor and assess impact
4. It will provide a range of ways of taking care of ourselves as practitioners, and increasing resilience

To achieve the above, the course will address the following questions:

1. Conflict Analysis: How do we conduct real time conflict analysis so that the results are useful in informing programming?, How do we use some of the tools of analysis to determine where our programming strengths as organizations lies?, How can some of the tools of analysis legitimize our work at the community level and among our partners?
2. Conflict Sensitivity programming; What are the various Conflict Sensitive approaches to programming?, which approaches work best for our programming? How do we design our programmes with a conflict sensitive lens?, What is the co-relation between the 'Do No Harm' Principle and other Conflict sensitive approaches? Are these Approaches relevant in expanding our programmes?
3. Programming for results in Peacebuilding; Given the fragility of some of the operating contexts which makes it hard to get the desired results, the course will address such questions as; How do we design for results?, What is the emerging evidence that PB in fragile contexts has results? How do we determine impact in our PB projects?
4. Resilience; Because of the kind of environment peacebuilders operate IN, many unknowingly suffer from burnout and emptiness. This session will address how individuals and teams can practice self- care and increase their emotional resilience to stressful situations especially during these times of COVID 19.

Learning Methodologies

This training will be online. The online learning infrastructure will be accessible and easy to use by all participants. As far as possible it will still make use of the full range of participatory adult learning models including inquiry, analysis and reflection from participants' knowledge. Participants will engage in individual and online group tasks, and case study analysis. Everything will be focused on finding practical pathways and responses to real problems through an inspiring and hopeful process.

All those who will successfully complete the course will be issued with a virtual certificate via email.
